Its, leading features are a further emission of Thusury notes, and short loans on one, two or three years.

No notice is taken of the banking part of Chase's scheme. Gen. Banks is believed to have reached New Orleans by this time.

It is believed that his orders contemplate the continuance of Gen. Butler there in a sub-ordinate command, but those who know the character of that officer anticipate his speedy return to the North.

CHICAGO, SATURDAY, DECEMBER 27, 1862,

the Lower Ohio.

An important committee is daily expected here from New York, representing the monied interests, to tell the government what they are and what they are not ready to do with their wealth.

From what is known of their views it is judged probable that they will necessitate a change in the financial scheme proposed by the Secretary of the Treasury, and possibly a change in the Cabinet.

Mr. Chase's financial scheme proposes that he may borrow nine hundred millions in any of the forms mentioned in his report, at his own discretion: also, that no banks now existing shall be allowed to enter into his proposed shational bunking system, that is they work first recommits made a new factor.

The bill includes the issue of 6 per cent. Tenny Miles select Principles of the Color o it, "I believe Phelan Lewis to be a disloyal man and a traitor to the government of the United States." One division of rebell manry, one brigade of cavalry, and four batteries of artillery, all supposed to be under the command of A. P. Hill, are stretched from a point four miles above Port Royal to three miles below Tobago Bay, the lowest point to which our own pick-ets artend.

Say, the lowest point to the command of cts ortend.

The gunboat fleet, under the command of Capt. McKay, in order to avoid the danger of being ice-bound, and to be secure from attack by robel infantry, has fallen down ten miles below Port Royal.

The planters on the robel side of the Rapushannock are sending all their negroes South below Port Royal.

The planters on the rebel side of the Rappabannock are sending all their negroes South as rapidly as possible, fearing the approach of the lat of January. Many of them, however, manage to escape during the night, and cross the river on logs and planks, or any thing that will float. Fifteen escaped from the plantation of Mr. Pratt, one mile below Port Cenway, last night, and were kindly cared for by our plekets. They say Mr. Pratt has separated nearly all his negro families, and sent them to different parts of the South.

A few wealthy planters, however, who were old Whigs and strong Union men, persistently refuse to sell their sixves, separate their families or sell them off. They say that if their "serrants" desire to leave them, they are at liberty to go whenever they please. With this understanding most of them remain and are obedient.

The leading rebels along the valley are furious in their denunciartons of Gen. Lee for not having destroyed the army of the Potomae while it was massed in the streets of Fredericksburg, and say that if he does not afford them protection from the ravages of the Yankees, they will soon take the oath allegiance to the National Government. What they most desire is protection, and they are beginning to be very indifferent what government gives it to them.

THE ARMY NOT GOING INTO WINTER QUARTERS.

[Correspondence of the New York Times.]

HEADQUARTERS LETY WING OF ARMY.]

Tuesday, Dec. 23, 1863 Heapquaters Leve Wise or Asset.

Theselop, Dec. 23, 1922

Now that the public desire for a great battle has been realized, the question naturally rises to every one's lips. Is the army of the Potomac is not going into winter quarters.

The army of the Potomac is not going into winter quarters. Though operations in front may be abandoned, the troops are not to remain cooped up in winter huts through the long weeks which intervene between now and March. A portion of the soldiers may be sent to Washington to prevent a backward movement of the enemy in that direction, while the remainder are shipped southward to commence operations answ on the Peninsula. Perlaps it may appear best to our generals to cross the Happahannock further down—say at Port Conway—under the protection of our gunboats, and again give battle to the enemy. Should we desire to do so, it would be, as a General remarked to me to day, almost impossible to winter the army in this locality, owing to the searcity of wood. The circuit of country now occupied by us, in addition to being limited, and producing a strated growth of timber, has been pretty efficually invaded by rebel wood-choppens, who have heretofore congregated in this sinisty—searcagard, Johnson, and such follows of the soil, the roads soon dry up siter the heaviles they may be, will hardly prevent on the control on the soil, the roads soon dry up siter the heaviles. Bayard and Buford, had been sent to aid in the movement.

Being asked whether he thought the 11,000 or 12,000 men, of which this expedition under Richetts consisted, were sufficient to hold the enemy in check, he replied it was—if the troops had been moved at he right time to the right points.

Gen. Porter presented, through his counsel, a written protest against the reception of certain evidence on the part of the government, which he had deemed inadmissible.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 26.—No movement has been made yet by either army, and there are no indications of a renewal of hostilities.

The President has stopped the assessment on disloyatists in Missouri, ordered by Gen. Schofield, in view of the recent manifestations of a willingness of the people to adopt the emancipation policy.

The rebels have been drived from Charlestown, Va. We lost two killed.

Lieut. Charles H. Adams, of the 1st Illinois light artillery, discharged hast week, was restored yesterday by order of the President for the poster arrived here Wednesday from

Gen. Foster gives Capt. James C. Staght, Chief Quartermaster of the department, high praise for the ample arrangements made for transportation and the vigor and promptness with which it was brought up, and to this fact the celerity of the movement is in a great measure attributed.

Col. Leddle, 8d New Tork artillery, Acting Brigadier General, handled his batteries with great efficiency and skill, and will, we understand, be promoted also.

Gen. Foster defeated the expectations of the rebels in every particular.

As we go to press we learn that Goldsboro' and Weldon have fallen, and that our victorious armies are still in motion.

the Gasetle thinks that even Wilkes will hardly venture upon further violation of neutral territory.

A general meeting of the Atlantic Telegraph Company was held in London on the 12th. Hon. James Staart Wortley presided and stated the terms on which it was proposed to raise. $200,000 new caunital, as already piblished. He amounced that within three days $28,000 and in response to the circulars, been subscribed. A resolution was carried to raise the ner capital in shares of five pounds each for laying a new cable. The meeting was regarded as most encouraging and successful.

The. Doily News, New and other journals warmly advocate the ciaims of the company. The Towns asys notification is advertised that the new undertaking for laying the cable has been formed with continental support and will shortly be introduced.

France.—There are again rumors in Paris of unfavorable news from Mexico, and urgent calls for reinforcements, which, it is said, will be sent under the device of establishing a reserve at Martinique.

There were many things in which the old Dutch and old New Englanders assimilated, and many in which they differed. He should mention only the former. They agreed as to the beneficial effects of these social gather-ings, and the descendants of both classes now agreed as to the present war. THE TONTOON BRIDGE QUESTION.

THE THE HAS been and is much criticism of Gens. Halleck and Meigs for their remissness is the matter of the pontoon bridges, which, it is said, they promised to deliver at Falmouth in season to enable Gen. Burnside's army to cross immediately upon fits arrival. That one or both of them, or the subordinates of one or both of them, or the subordinates of one or both of them, or the subordinates of one or both of them, or the subordinates of one or both of them, or the subordinates of one or both of them, or the subordinates of one or both of them, or the subordinates of castismosty explanation. But one cannot but support that the attack upon them is pushed so vigorously with a riew to the protection of others from binne. Look a momentat the facts:

When Gen. Sunner's advance reached Falmouth, the Rappahamneck was, as there is abundance of contemporameous testimony to prove, fordable at that point, for cavalry and infantry, being not more than three feet deep; the town of Fredericksburg was held by a single rebel regiment, and the hights beyond, now bristling with cannon and bayonets, were not held at all. What was to prevent the infantry from taking possession of the city and hills, from throwing up carthworks on the latter and constructing shuttis, while the cavalry galloped down the roud along which Lougstreet was coming, and harassed so as to delay, if not halt, his movement? "But the river was not fordable for artillery," is the question which the point. Granfed: but is it inposed to be provide a bridge Manitas always say at this point. SPRINGFIELD CORRESPONDENCE.

SPILESTELD, Dec. 35, 1962.

THE MISSISSIPPI EXPEDITION.

The McClernand expedition has at length started. At last the General and Staff left for Cairo to-day to take command of the troops destined for it at Memphis and other points.

There has no doubt been a good deal of intrigue and maneuvering among the West Point. There has ne doubt been a good deal of intra-ing and maneuvering among the West Point interest to prevent the General's assuming the command. Gen. Halleck was very much opposed to it, and so were also other Generals in the Eastern and Western armies. It was only upon the personal solicitation of Mr. Lincoln and Gov. Yates that Gen. Halleck may New Oricana augar. The process was aimple, boiling the juice down to the consistent of the means to carry on the war. And we fear that that body, instead of casting about for such alterations and amendments of the plan as will commend it to financiera who have money to invest, will fall easily into the belief that the only resource left is in a new and larger issue of legal tender notes, every one of which will only aggravate a difficulty.

and past correr, both as a politician and a military man.

It is strange that his Democratic friends in this place and vicinity do not look upon him with favor. He is regarded by them with district and suspicion. I can attribute this to no other cause than the steady and unswering support he has given to the Administration and the war. He has sunk the politician in the soldier in every sense of the phrase. There are no "Hs." or "ands," or "buts," with him in the prosecution of this war. I have no doubt he will forage on the enemy when he gets into their territory, and cripple them in every possible way. Since he has been in the State, the I cading Democratis generally have given him the ent direct, and I have no doubt he appreciates this fact. He will perhaps one day pay them back in their own colon.

THE MARKHAGE OF THE GENERAL.

The General was married on Tuesday evening, at Jacksonville in this State, to Miss Minerva Duniap, daughter of Col. Janes Dunlap of that ploce. The Rev. Mr. Wood performed the ceremony, which was witnessed by a very large party of invited guests, among whom I noticed the Governor of the State, Hon. Jesse K. Dubois, Auditor, and lady, Hon. O. M. Hatch, Secretary of State, and lady; a large number of the citizens of Jacksonville, including professors of the various colleges (there, chergymen, lawyers, physicians, merchants, dec. An ample supper in the dining hall of the Dunlap House and conversation, dancing, dec., in the capacitous parlors, closed the fastivities of the evening. Miss Dunlap is the second daughter of Col. and Mrs. Dunlap to whom the General has been united in marriage. His former wife was a most amiable, accomplished and distinction of all who knew her in Jackson-ville and Springfield, and the circle of her relatives and friends were by no meass limited. OUR NASHVILLE LETTER.

ionce of the Chicago Tribu very queer material. I have come across a sample or two here, and as one of the individsample of two neet, and as not of the interior unals is connected with matters of general interest I will dovetail the two and give you a good, hir sample of the Tennessee Unionist. The same style of Union men prevail all over the South, and are a rare tribe.

A few days since the Common Connell of these agents of the rebel commissariat that Bragg on getting into Middle Tannessee had to order a discontinuance of the search. He issued an order to the Commissary General of his army at Chattanoga to furnish his army with supplies, saying that the purchaser of the agents had so far depleted the country of the agents had so far depleted the country of the agents had so far depleted the country of the agents had so far depleted the country of the necessaries of life that he could not subsist his army in it. I hear from an other source that these agents would go to a former's house and take charge of all his store of mest and live stock. The agent would then weigh him out 125 ponds of bacon, leave him a beeve and a miled cow, fifty bushels of corn, the same of wheat and the that all the rest. The paper from which I have been quoting says that the prices paid in Middle Tennessee for these articles were only about one third of the prices paid to specusiators at Richmond and elsewhere further South.

This is the rich country abandoned by Buell without a struggle, because he feared being cut off from supplies. The possession of it has added a winter to the lifetime of the Confederacy, and though feen. Buell and his advisers did not believe that his army could exist kere it is made apparent that a large portion of Bragg's army did, and that stores of immense value were shipped away. 20,000 men in Nashville subsisted for two months by foraging in this same country, and felt no want. And now Gen. Rosecrans' entire army is doing the same. I am totil that not a single ounce of the torage transported here by rail has been touched, but that all supplies have been drawn from the country around us. And yet Gen. Buell abandoned this country before an enemy whem he did not believe to be more than 30.000 core. residents here to the amount of $30,000 for the support of the poor. They were to preand submit it to Gov. Johnson, who was to prove it and thus make the assessment al. The Committee appointed for the pur-se made the list and sent it to Gov. Johnson, and I give it below:

There are very few Unionists who are not ready to appland the justice of this assess-ment. Gov. Johnson, I understand, thinks the amount too heavy, and has relused to approve the list. But when the secret history of the affair is divulged, and it is made known by whom this list was written, one becomes disgusted. The author of the list is a man named Wm. S. Chestham, a member of the Board, and called by courtesy, a Union man. Board, and catted by courtesy, a Union man. He was appointed by Gov. Col. SCOTT AND THE HARTSVILLS AFFAIR.

The Clinelinatil Commercial and its correspondents, Alf Burnett and W. D. Bickham, in attempting to, excuses the cowardly conduct of the Ohio troops at Hartsville, have been elerring Col. Scots of the 10th Illinois. The latter called the brigade "Scots" ownedly bryade," and the former to receifly W. D. R.'s instake, says that Scots "ninding the place a damperous one, spousseds at work previously to be allowed to rejoin his regiment, and his request was granted." The Indianations that Scots feared danger will be readily understood at home where Scott's known. Col. Scott, at the request of Gen. Dumont, took charge of the brigade while it was or your from Ledanon to Nashville. His purpose was to do duty antil he could reach his only regiment of Nashville. He thought that the survest, quickess and safet, means to do so. A few days after he had taken command, the brigade was ordered to comiser-march towards Lagrange, and then, by a cherillous results.

The bill to grant government aid for the plargement of the Hilnois and Michigan feet wide and 350 feet long, for a distance of thirty-six miles, and to improve the Illinois River by a series of locks and dams, so that it shall have the carrying capacity of the Missi-sippl above St. Louis. This line of coxamu-hication is 316 miles long, nearly rivaling the New York and Eric Canai in extent, but sur-passing it in the capacity for trabsportation. The estimated cost of this work is by one plan $6,000,000, by another $11,000,000, and by a third $13,000,000.

Such is the military aspect; let us look at the commercial. We are advised that, not-withstanding the apparant prosperity which pervades every branch of business, the agricultural interest of the Wost is really in side-pressed condition, that the blockade of the title factor have with a mental than the prospective of the contraction of the cont road station ten miles distant, and then sell it at the prevailing prices. The stories which occasionally find their way into the newspapers as to using corn for fuel, are no fictions. Few people, not immediately connected with the great head, have an idea of the magnitude of this interest. For instance, between Justility and November of this year, there have been receiven at four of the principal lake ports 100,000,000 brashels of grain of all kinds; sufficient to feed nearly the existing population of the United States. Now, if by means of increased facilities of transportation and diminished cost, a saving of four cents a bashel could be effected on this immenses clock, it would amount to $4,000,000, which would be equivalent to a nearly seven percent interest on an expenditure of $60,000,000. But it must be borne in raind that these are only two of great staples to be benefited by the proposed works. The port, the benefit by the proposed works. The port, the benefit by the proposed works. The port, the benefit only the four continuous proposition of chesp bread, one in which the New England citizen is equally interested wite the western farmer. The East, for the first time, has become the sole recipient of this western fertilizing stream of commencing importance is equally interested wite the western farmer. The East for the first time, has become the sole recipient of this western fertilizing stream of commence, and if she wishes to retain it after the crushing out of the rebellion, she must at once take steps to make the raise of transportation to the seaboard as cheap as to the Guif coast. Unless the present opportunity is improved, it is gone, many fear, forever.

The support which this measure received at the last session of Congress was cordial and unanimous, so far as related to the New York; while Penneylvania and Maryland maintained a atremous opposition, based on the supposition that the measure would detreat from their carrying trade, and be injurious to Baltimore and Philadelphia. [Correspondence of the Cincinnati Gasette.]

Rash day a column or two might be filled with the details of little fights, which invariably occur whenever a party goes beyond out lines for the purpose of foraging.

One general remark may be made with regard to all these affilirs—the rebels usually take the initiative, and manifest more enterprise and daring than we. Upon their additions and the same and the same one; and yet, such is the superior activity and energy of their leaders, that they actually throw us month defensive, even when the bulk of our army seems to be threatening their principal positions. To an observer, at distance, it might be supposed that the rebels were at this time engaged in guarding the approaches to Murfreesboro, and warding out the truth is that we ourselves seem to be besieged, and act ast four sole business were to husband all our resources for the defense of Nashville.

Why should the enemy have the business of attacking forage trains and smoying picked lines, wholly to themselves? They, too, send out forage trains, and frequently in the direct is carefully awaited the opportunity to carry their old white State figs over the remains of pickets, as far removed from the main body of their forces as the Union lines from ours, and I hope no more skillfully posted than ours. They, too have detached origades in positions much nore assallable than that of the 30th at Hartsville. Where is all our large cavalry force? What is to hinder if from occasionally capturing those forage trains, making dashes upon those brigades? Surely we have as brave soldlers as are in he rebels army, is preserved, notwithstanding their numerous wants and privations; and it is in consequence of our seglecting to make use of each means, that he tone of our own is cometines, which is a first the body rascellar and the grown and the capture of the Eustenant Colonel and services, and the colonel and the capture of the structure of t

The same day, Capt. Wicklifth of the 6d Kentucky eavairy, seouting in front of one-of our forage trains, discovered a detached camp containing $4,000 robels, on what it called the Grasny White turnpike. Now, why couldn't we have practiced upon this camp the iesson which John Morgan tanget us at Hartsville? Why might not the morning of December 3l, have been signalized by Great as was our loss before the hights of Fredericksbur, so large is the army of the Fotomac, that in riding through the different corps one can assreely miss the number. It is only when visiting individual divisions and brigades that great gaps can be seen, and stout forms and brave faces are missed.

Amaton, on the south said of the Neuke, to succor their skedsdilling friends.

As the smoke of battle clears away it reveals a considerable slaughter among the Yankees at Whitehall on Tuesday. A hundred of their dead were left unburied on the field, and a pit, 100 yards long, filled with dead, has been found. Only three companies of the 56th and 11th North Carolina were engaged. Col. Ferrebee, of the 59th, with eighteen men of the 14th, fought the enemy for several hours, until reinforced by three of his own companies, who were subsequently relieved by the 11th, Col. Leventreme, under the immortal Bethel flag, who ultimately drove them from their guns into the field. The 91st North Carolina, Col. Jordan, was on the field, but, with the exception of one company, seems to have taken no part in the action.

LARCENY.-A man named Wm. Ra LARCENY.—A man named Wm. Rankin was brought before Justice Millican yesterday aftersioon, charged with stealing a coat valued at $15, from Loon Mamhelmer, 196 South Clark street, on Thursday night. He was committed in default of $600 ball. Rankin was tried at the last term of court for stealing a coat worth $30. The court allowed him to plead gailily of petty larceny, and sentenced him to the coufity juli for ten days, which term expired last Sunday. He committed this theft on Thursday night. It is hoped he will the time be compelled to gander the State some service at Joliet, in return for the exirs expense incurred in the leniency of the court towards him.

A concert two days old and singing birds flown, is like the morning after the feast. There are remnants of the flowis and broken bottles, a wine stained cloth and orange peel, cigar stumps and cracked go hiets; but it often happens that the keen waiter shall fit often happens that the keen waiter shall find a bottle uncorked, a fowl undisturbed, and fragments of the desert intact, among the dehies upon which he will feast with Biddy below stairs. Thus in the concert, though Patti and Gottschalk are now astonishing the raral districts, there is something left for as to admire, and that is the very excellent performance of some of our amateurs.

Reprisit, Miss De Pelgrom. In the dust with Gottachalk, his brilliant caprico-priatence of emour, Miss De Pelgrom displayed an execution and taste which not only delighted the audience but drew handsome compliments from G. himself. She has a clear, elastic touch, which told upon the brilliant Chickering—Gottachalk's own. The two planos blended into one so admirably that there was not a single jarring note, not a break in the time, and a similarity of style which seemed to make it the performance of one pisnist. Her execution of the music which was some of Gottschalk's rapid and elaborate composition was unusually excellent and delivered with a necty and secure of detail and correctness of taste which compelled admiration

CHURCH OF THE ASCENSION. The Rev. Mr. Cooper, by laborious effort and faithful pastoral exertion, has succeeded in re-vivifying this parish, and it is now in a healthy and prosperous condition. The services on Christmas morning were of an interesting character. The rector's sermon was upon the Personal Offices of Christ—a touching and appropriate subject for the day. The decorations, which are tasty and quite artistic in arrangement, were the admiration of the congregation.

The rector's good lady was the recipient of a fine Sewing Maghine, costing $477, purchased by members of the Church.

The ladies of Christ's CHURCH.

The ladies of Christ's Church have exhibited a matured taste in the style of ornamenting their little edifice, and deserve high praise for the untiring efforts they have so patiently displayed. The Rev. Charles E. Chenep presched an impressive sermon, in which he eloquently portrayed the advantages and blessings derives by mankind from the appearance of Christ upon earth and his subsequent sufferinge and death.

TRINITY CHURCH.

There was the naual Christmas Day services at Trinity. The Rev. Dr. Pratt officiated, and the Holy Communion was participated in by nearly 400 communicants.

A MISSION SCHOOL CHRISTMAS.

Among the various noble charities which made Christmas a season of joy to the poor of the city, was a dinner given to the children of the Mission School, connected with the Mission supported by of the city, was a dinner given to the children of the Mission School, connected with the Ministry at Large, an institution supported by the Unitarian churches of Chicago.

About two hundred children gathered in the hall occupied as their Sunday School room, in Garrett Block, where in ample and really sumptuous repast was served to them. Short addresses were made by Rev. Mr. Thomas and Rev. Mr. Collyer, and the children joined in singing several spirited songs. After participating in the good things so kindly furnished to the fullest possible extent, the juvenile company dispersed, wishing that blessed Christmas would come every day. Great credit is due the Superintendent and his efficient corps of teachers for their effors in behalf of these poor children. Kindnets is better for them than legislation—the Sunday School a more certain protection of their morals than any police force.

He would have preferred that those who had done the hard fighting at Harper's Flury be toasted. None who know of their acts at Martinshary and Harper's Ferry could don't their valor or bravery. All the trouble he ever had with his men, in battle, was to keep them back, at proper times. They wanted to fight whenever they come in sight of the secoch, and many of them wanted to lay saide all military rules, and pitch in on their own individual account. He almded to the soolness and bravery of several officers and privates—of orderly Grabana, who, in the thickest of the battle, seemed as cool and considerate as if on drees parade, having nothing to est all day but a hard cracker, yet fought away, as if it was "his own war," and made no complaint. DINKER TO PHILLIPS LATTERY.

Camp Dogisa now presents any shing but an attractive phase to any one, be he soldier or civilian. Nearly all the troops have left for various portions of the country—some for active field service, others into camp elsewhere, leaving their ojd barracks looking dreary and decolate. The doors of some buildings so lately the centre of tift and bustle, are awinging in the wind, the hinges as it were creaking a mounting gendem over their forner immates. The late fail of rain imparts to the grounds more of the appearance of a large lake interspersed by small islands, than of grand parace grounds. REBUTTES EVIDENCE.

The prosecution introduced yesterday some six or eight witnesses, the neighbors of Hopp, with a view of exhibiting his general course as a man and a citizen. The defit of the testimony was, that Hopp was in the labit of drinking, and had been for a number of years, and that he acted as though under the influence of liquor, though not drunk, at the time, the homicide was committed. No new features of importance were developed beyond those which have been heretofore published. Other witnesses will be called to the stand to day by the people's counsel, with the same object in view. It is stoped that the timenty will be closed this afternoon.

The members of the Board of Trade held as adjourned meeting last night, at their rooms, to consider the presentile and resolutions referring to a change in the excise hw, so far as it relates to a tax on warehouse receipts.

There was but a small ditendance, owing probably to the unpleasant character of the weather. At 8 o'clock, C. T. Wheeler, esq., President, called the Board to order and briefly stating the object of the meeting, called upon Mr. W. D. Houghteling to read the subjoined presentile and resolutions, which are referred to above:

mit to Congress:

othe Honorable the Sanate and House of Reprecustatives of the United Sales, in Observaguantical:
The undersigned officers and members of the Board of Trade of the city of Chicago, would retype thilly represent that, as set forth in the preamble and re-obtains stached, the excise law tax pow imposed upon warehouse receipts, so far as such receipts relate to the warehousing of grain is tunequal and burdensours; and therefore, they pray Mr. Houghteling alluded to the misappropriate which be thought some of the men to the government and the business of the country.

Mr. Houghtelings alluded to the misapprechansion which he thought some of the nombers had aboved under touching the character of the resolutions. His only desire in drafting them was to equalize the law, so that it would not bear unjustly or the agricultural community. He denied that any node infuence had been exerted over him by warehousemen. They had nothing whatever to do with their inception or completion. He argued the necessity of the change asked for. The question was, he said, whether the grain would pay the enormous taxation bevied upon it. All through the country warehousemen give receipts to farmers who contract to deliver from five hundred to five thousand bushels. The grain is delivered at the convenience of the farmer. Now if they are taxed twenty-five cents for every wagout load, their study will be to avoid the law. And this can be done by the ald of a pass-book, or by giving one receipt and endorsing subsequent deliveries on that. In Chicago, New York or Buffalo, there would be no objection to the tax of twenty-five cents.

George Watson was opposed to the figures contained in the resolution. A change such as is contemplated by them would not effect the desired object.

Mr. C. Randolph said that the object of the Mr. C. Almolph said that the object of the resolutions, except the schedule of rates, was nanimously adopted.

On motion of Mr. Whitney the question of rates was referred to the Eoard of Directors, and the meeting adjourned.

yesterday afternoon, of Thomas Flynn and Wm. Johnson, brought to light a rebbery, which, for its deep wrought, premeditated devilishness, has rarely been equaled in our city. The victim is Alex Patterson, who has for some months engaged in the Mis sippi gunboat service, and was discharged on account of disability. The feeble old man, with his hard-carned wages, amounting to $66, was on his way to his friends in Massa-chusetts. By some means, Flynn and John-son acquainted themselves of the amount of money he had, where he kept it upon his person, etc. Mr. Patterson had made his arrangements to leave on the Michigan Central evening train for home. The robbers had laid their plans to get his money, and to this end had kept in his wake for two days. They drank frequently with him, but did not sucmoney he had, where he kept it upon his perthere plans to get ms money, and to this can had kept in his wake for two days. They draink frequently with him, but did not succeed in getting him insensibly draink. They followed him to the depot, and a few minutes before train time, induced him to take a walk with them, a short distance down Michigan Avenne. When they reached Dearborn Park, Flynn caught the feeble, sick man by the throat and threw him down, thus preventing any resistance from him, and any possibility of his crice for help being heard. Johnson, in the meantime robbed Patterson of $96 - all the money he had in his possession. Although Mr. Pattorson was not present, being confined to his room by illness, yet the circumstantial evidence against the accused was no strong, they were held to hall in the penal sum of $1,000 each, for their appearance at the Recorder's Court, in default of which they were committed.
